Google wants a video of your business. Roll camera.

What to film when your business lives in a ute.

01 · THE BOUNCER

Verification is Google asking for ID at the door.

Lately it's nearly always a video, and you don't get to choose. Google picks the method.

02 · BEFORE YOU FILM

Fix the profile first.

Your real business name and nothing else. The same name, address and phone everywhere. Work at the customer's place? Hide your address.

03 · THE SHOT LIST

Street. Ute. Tools. Office. Paperwork.

Start on your street sign, open up the ute, walk into the office, and finish on an invoice with your business name on it.

04 · THE RULES

One live take. No cuts. At least 30 seconds.

Record it live on your phone. Aim for 60 to 90 seconds, in daylight, nice and slow.

05 · FACES

Keep faces out of it. Yours too.

No other people's faces on screen, and Google isn't checking yours either. The apprentice can sit this one out.

06 · KNOCKED BACK

Rejected twice? Stop filming.

Find the real problem and fix it first. If the profile gets disabled, the way back is an appeal.

THE FULL GUIDE

Plus the month it took to get one client through.

On our blog at pixelmethis.com.au/articles